A Lil Skate is ready to learn the very basics of swimming. It is a shallow water class. This is a class for children who enjoy the water but do not yet know how or feel insecure about putting their body in a prone position to swim or float on their own. They might not be putting their face in the water yet. It is not a class for a child who is fearful of the water.

A Lil Ray has some of the very basics of swimming. The swimmer enjoys being in the pool and will put their face in the water. They can demonstrate basic forward momentum in some way but haven't put all the pieces of swimming together. They can push themselves off the pool floor to begin "swimming" on their front and back
